

To The Honorable Shelley C. Chapman,

My wife and I need you to defend us against losing our medical security. I worked an honest and hard job for Peabody Coal Company in many different positions for 26 years. I earned my pay, pension, and healthcare card during that time. They paid me my wages and promised to take care of us medically and financially in our old age. Now they are trying to renounce their duty after I fulfilled my obligation to them years ago. I have damaged my hearing and my lungs working for them. The least they can do is do as they promised. I had prostate cancer and survived due to receiving great care and medicine from my doctors. My wife has fibromyalgia and needs her medicines and to be able to see her doctor for pain management. Please help us hold them accountable to fulfill their responsibility. I am 79 years old. I don't want to burden my family and I am too old to find a job. Thank you for your consideration and your time reading my letter.

Sincerely,
