I and my ^{wife} are 77 & 78 yrs old. Until the last 7 yrs we have been very healthy. I'm still very healthy, but my wife has had some very serious ~~go~~ wrong. She has osteoporosis and has almost broken every bone in her body. She broken ~~both~~ ^{both} wrists, both legs, ribs, her right arm twice, numerous ribs. Then her spine started to cottle and had to have surgery on her back 5 times. She is in a wheel chair now, she has diabetes asthma High Blood Pressure.

The meds she takes are unreal. I just don't know what we would do without our insurance, I guess she would just have stop taking the meds. If they take the insurance and the pension. That would take away half of our income. I just don't know what we would do. I guess we could just cur up in a ball and give it up.

You know I really think that is up to God not the Coal Companies bottom line

Thank you for making the right decision
