Your Honor!

Remember the Coalminers were promised insurance and pensions after they retired. Now that we are in our later years of life Peabody and Patriot are trying to get out of the promise. Coalminers work in all of the elements whether it is cold, hot, rainy or snowing. Coalminers are hard working people. The pensions are small. After years of hard work I believe we deserve what was promised. Without this; it really makes it hard for people that has counted on what we were promised.
